Plastic fabrication materials staged for production

CASE STUDY

PAPER & PLASTICS

SupplyOne partnered with a private equity-owned plastic fabrication company to consolidate packaging support, improve inventory management, and build a scalable service model for continued multi-location growth.

OVERVIEW

A private equity-owned plastic fabrication company needed to consolidate vendors and support rapid growth across multiple locations. SupplyOne secured two locations with stocked inventory programs, JIT service, and a scalable model for future expansion.

THE SOLUTION

SupplyOne developed a localized support model designed to improve responsiveness, streamline inventory programs, and support the customer's acquisition-driven growth strategy.

SupplyOne Partners With You to Identify What's Best for Your Business

Hybrid Manufacturing & Distribution: SupplyOne converted corrugated packaging within its own manufacturing facilities while consolidating complementary packaging products under a single strategic partner, reducing supplier complexity across locations.

Stocked Inventory & JIT Service: Dedicated local representatives were assigned to manage stocked inventory programs and provide just-in-time service to support daily operations.

Scalable Multi-Location Model: SupplyOne created a flexible service model that can expand into newly acquired facilities as the customer continues to grow.
